PUBLIC NOTICE

The East Berlin Borough Police Department has received correspondence indicating that IRS representatives may be conducting official business in the local area during the coming weeks.

Please remember to use caution with anyone claiming to represent a government agency. The Borough is not able to verify the identity of IRS employees for members of the public.

If you believe someone is impersonating a government official, acting suspiciously, attempting to obtain money or personal information fraudulently, or if you feel your safety is at risk, please call 911 immediately.

As always, if something doesn't seem right, trust your instincts and report suspicious activity.

This letter is to inform your agency the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) will be sending 20 revenue officers to your local area to meet face-to-face with taxpayers during the weeks of August 10 and August 17, 2026. Most of the appointments with taxpayers will be scheduled in advance with the taxpayer. On occasion revenue officers may attempt unannounced contact with third parties or with taxpayers. The revenue officers working the case may be from different states, and thus driving out-of-state vehicles.

We wanted to inform you of the upcoming visit because local law enforcement may receive calls from concerned community members questioning the validity of our presence. A few things that can be done to verify the identity of an IRS employee:

- Revenue officers will identify themselves and show their official IRS pocket commissions to taxpayers and third parties.
- Additionally, revenue officers carry one extra piece of government identification that can be shown to those who question our identity.

In the event you receive a call and cannot verify the IRS employee's identity using the measures above, the IRS has a telephone line dedicated for law enforcement to use to verify an IRS employee's identity at 800-367-5690. Please distribute this letter throughout your agency as you deem appropriate.
